FOREWORD

There seems to be no end of thrills in this numismatic game of ours. The good fortune this cataloguer has experienced to be able to offer just about every rarity in the United States series at one time or another exhausted, we thought, all of the possible thrills of cataloguing. Now comes a new experience.

We are making Numismatic History this day as we catalogue a group of United States Rarities which appear in One Auction Catalogue for the very first time. The King of American coins, the Idler 1904 Silver Dollar is, of course, a prime feature. No less exciting is the famed 1913 Liberty Head Nickel. The rare 1894-S Dime and 1876-CC Twenty Cents piece are also included.

The fabulous pair of unique proofs of 1866, the only quarter and the only half dollar without motto, have appeared only once before, in the Farouk Catalogue, at that time there was no 1804 Dollar listed.

To those who have made this event possible, we are extremely grateful. Our sincerest thanks to Mr. Edwin M. Hydeman for his many expressions of confidence and friendship. To the officers and members of the Numismatic Association of Southern California, our thanks for inviting us to conduct this year's Auction Sale.

May we add a word of appreciation to our many friends and patrons for their continued support? We hope we shall continue to deserve it.

LARGE CENTS

- 89—1793 Sheldon 1. Crosby 1A. The Chain AMER1. Planchet roughness, especially at head and LIBERTY. The date and lettering clear, obverse is F-12. The reverse is far superior and should be especially attractive for the type collector. Easily VF—25 or better. Worth $275.00
 90—1793 S3, Crosby 3-C. Chain AMERICA. Incused outlines of links of the chain from the reverse are seen in front of the mouth and throat and under the neck. This is a clean, desirable specimen, a VF-20. and should arouse considerable competition. Chain cents are in great demand. $225.00

- 91—1793 S9, C9-H. The Wreath Cent. An attractive example about VF-30. There is a scratch in field near point of bust. Well centered, olive-brown. Worth $250.00
- 92—1793 S13, C12-L. The Liberty Cap Cent. A rare and much-sought type piece. Well centered, obverse lettering strong; reverse, evenly worn ONE CENT. About F-15, should bring a good price. $350.00
- 93—1794 S63, Hays 32, Chapman 38. The Fallen 4. Date recut, LIBERTY high. Fraction bar long and connects with end of right ribbon. VF-30. $65.00
- 94—1795 S75, Doughty 67, Clapp-Newcomb 3. Lettered edge; double leaf at top of right wreath branch. Fine 15. $57.50
- 95—1795 S78, D-70, CN-6. Plain edge, top of 5 barely touches bust; Three berries on right branch, four on left. One of the more beautiful of the large cents, this medium brown specimen is VF-35. The Dupont 40 fetched $160.00 which was a high price. This is worth $90.00
- 96—1796 S91, Gilbert-F, CN-F. The Liberty Cap 1796. An attractive dark brown surface, VF-20. $75.00
- 97—1796 S108, G-23, CN-21. The draped Bust, widest date. From the rusted die, the right ribbon detached. Easily VF-20, almost a condition census coin. Rarity 5. $125.00
- 98—1797 S123, D-106, CN-6. Closest Date, scar on cheek under eye; 16 leaves 6 berries on left branch, 19-6 on right. A Nichols find coin, about MS-60. The Dupont specimen fetched $275.00 and the Sloss coin went for a record $400.00. A lovely coin with medium red-brown lustre.
- 99—1797 S131, D-98, CN-14. Curved break behind hair ribbon; stemless wreath. VG-10. Rarity 3. $40.00
- 100—1798 S148, D-117, C-6. The Horned 9, a small spur on the back of the 9. faintly. Rarity 3. Fine-12. $25.00
- 101—1798 S148, D-117, C-6. The Horned 9, a small spur on the back of the 9. Interesting variety, Rarity 2. VF 30, condition census. $55.00

- 102—1799 S189,, D-138, C-2. The Perfect Date. An unusually attractive cent with clear 9's. This offering should attract many for it is neither so high a grade that it would run into 4 figures (or 5 as in the case of the Hines piece), nor is it as poor as the usual 1799. This is almost a 20 coin and as such should bring $400.00
- 103—1800 over 1798. Appears to be S-190 but difficult to pin down. VG-10. (Rarity 5) $40.00
- 104—1800 Perfect date. S212, not in Doughty, CN-25. Fine 15, Rarity 4. $45.00
- 105—1801 S216, D-160, N-8. Blunt first 1; perfect fraction, OF weakly struck. F-12. Rarity 2. $20.00
- 106—1801 S219, D-156, N-6. The Famous 3 error reverse. IINATED, fraction 1/000, left stem missing. Popular, VG-10, rarity 3. $30.00
- 107—1801 S221, D-159, N-9. Corrected fraction. 1/100 over 1/000. Rarity 3. VG 10, possibly a 12. $25.00
- 108—1801 S223, D-158, N-11. Fraction 1/000, elongated left stem. Popular type piece. VF-25. $40.00

- 110—1802 NC-2, not in Doughty, N-2. There is no crack through ERTY, ME joined solidly at their feet and AM seem to touch. ONE high in wreath, C in CENT low, N of CENT has imperfect right top and foot of N in UNITED is imperfect. Listed as Rarity 8 with only 3 known examples. This may be one of them or it may be a new discovery, probably the latter. It is VF-20 and worth $600.00
(We hope Ed Hydeman gets the thrill out of this discovery that Bill Donlon got when we discovered his 1803 NC-1 which he had bought for 25 cents—it fetched $525.00 in our Donlon Auction!)
- 111—1803 S243, D-180, N-1. The stemless wreath, double fraction bar, extra S under the last S in STATES. A popular type coin. Fine 12-15, Rarity 4. $27.50
- 112—1803 S249 D-179, N-7. Mumps obverse, corrected fraction reverse. (1/100 over 1/000). A popular type coin for both reasons. Fine-12, rarity 4. $25.00
- 113—1803 S251, D-186, N-10. Farthest 1 and 3, short fraction bar. VF-20. $17.50
- 114—1804 S266, D198. Perfect dies. One of the rarer and more popular dates. Attractive, despite pitting, this well centered cent has a strong date. It is about VF-20 and should fetch $200.00
- 115—1805 S267, D-199, C-1. Blunt 1, recut 5; fraction bar to the right of 1 in denomination. VF-25. $25.00
- 116—1806 S270, D-202. A scarce date. Obviously cleaned some time ago, this a sharp, well-centered coin which will tone down. VF-25. $40.00
- 117—1807 S273, D-203, C-1. The large 7 over 6. However, the left top is not close to drapery. G-6. $10.00
- 118—1807 S275, D-206, C-5. Perfect date, large fraction. Reverse, slightly left. Rarity 5, VF-25; almost a condition census coin. $62.50
- 119—1808 S278, D-209, C-2. Scarcest of the 1808's. Attractive medium brown, obverse slightly right. VF-30. $60.00
- 120—1809 S280, D-210. Scarce. The 9 was first started too low and then corrected. Medium brown, VF-20-25. $50.00
- 121—1810 over 09. S281, D-211, C-1. The over-date, popular as such. Fine-15. $17.50

- 123—1811 over 10. S286, D215, C-1. The over-date. About as rare as the 1809. Some reverse pitting; olive brown. VF-20, Rarity 3. $75.00
- 124—1811 S287, D-216, C-2. Perfect date. Medium brown, VF-25, rarity 2. $45.00
- 125—1812 S291, D-220, C-4. The Die Crack variety, crack connects all stars on right, another all stars on left. About XF-40. $40.00
- 126—1813 S292, D-221, C-1. Distant Star. VF-25. $20.00
- 127—1814 S295, D-225, C-2. Plain 4, olive-brown, VF-35. $17.50

THE 1913 LIBERTY HEAD NICKEL

280—Perhaps the most famous of American Coins is the 1913 Liberty Head Nickel. The dean of professional numismatists, the late B. Max Mehl of Fort Worth, Texas claimed to have spent over one million dollars in advertising in which the 1913 Liberty Head Nickel was featured.

Only five specimens of the 1913 Liberty Head Nickels were struck and all were owned by Col. E. H. R. Green, son of the famous Hetty Green. When Col. Green's estate was marketed, the astute B. G. Johnson of the St. Louis Stamp and Coin Company came into possession of all five pieces. Eventually, all were placed into private collections and the pedigree of each specimen has been noted.

1. The first specimen went to a Missouri attorney from whom it was acquired by this cataloguer and sold into the outstanding collection of United States coins extant. This may be called the Newman-Eliasberg Nickel.
2. The second specimen went to a New York Collector from whom it was acquired by this cataloguer and sold to King Farouk of Egypt. In the sale of the Palace Collection, this cataloguer again acquired it for a prominent Ohio Collection. This may be called the Boyd-Farouk-Norweb Nickel.
3. The third specimen went to a prominent Southern Collector and was traded into another collection of equal prominence. This may be called the Bolt Nickel.
4. The fourth specimen is owned by a Mid-western collector and may be called the McDermott Nickel.
5. The fifth and last specimen is offered in this collection. It was originally in the Fred Olsen Collection and when Mr. Mehl sold that material at auction, King Farouk had entered a bid. Before the sale date, this cataloguer, unaware of the King's interest in the Olsen coin, submitted the Boyd piece to him. Having acquired the Boyd piece, King Farouk commissioned B. Max Mehl to resell the Olsen coin. Mehl listed it in the well-known Will W. Neil Sale and the 1913 Liberty Head Nickel went to Edwin C. Hydeman of York, Pa. This is a superb coin, sharply struck, as choice a specimen as could possibly be attained. It has been handled with utmost care, a statement which, unfortunately, cannot be made of two of the pieces. This may be called the Olsen-Hydeman Nickel.

All sorts of fancy figures have been bandied about when the 1913 Liberty Head Nickel was mentioned. The mid-western collector has stated that he refused $25,000.00 for his coin and that at that moment, he would not accept even $50,000.00 for it. A Baltimore Television broadcast contained a statement indicating that the owner of the 1913 nickel in that city valued the coin at $40,000.00.

Truly, this most famous of American coins, one day in the Royal Collection of a King, could well be worth a "King's Ransom." To own it is to own an item which should be the source of pride, pleasure and profit.

Mr. Hydeman has been reluctant to part with his pet coin. In fact, sometime after the entire collection had been in California, the 1913 Nickel was returned to Miami. Only at the last moment, as the copy was being prepared for the printer were we able to persuade Mr. Hydeman that the catalogue should include his entire collection.

In fairness to prospective buyers, however, it must be noted that Mr. Hydeman has reserved the right to set an upset price of $50,000.00 on this coin. Although it is extremely unlikely that Mr. Hydeman will change his mind, we will receive and record all bids. In that event, the coin will be sold to the highest bidder. However, judging from inquiries made by prospective buyers, it is very probable that bidding will exceed the $50,000.00 figure.

THE EXCESSIVELY RARE 1894-S

- 337—1894-S One of the prizes and rarities of the United States Coinage, this gem was obtained by Mr. Hydeman out of the famous Will W. Niel Auction conducted by the late B. Max Mehl. Mr. Niel, in turn, had acquired it out of the auction of the World's Greatest Collection conducted by this cataloguer in 1946. At that time this coin brought $2350.00 but of course it is worth several times that sum today. Although there were supposed to have been 24 coins struck, there seem to be only 7 known specimens of the 1894-S dime. All are gems, in proof condition. The present market for rarities of this calibre should result in a runaway price on this offering. So seldom does it appear that advanced collectors would best reach for the 1894-S now. The added lustre of so sound a pedigree should be seriously considered.
- 338—1895 Uncirculated. A delightful, attractive coin. Scarce. $125.00

THE JEROME KERN 1876 CARSON CITY SPECIMEN

405—1876-CC Another prize coin in the United States Series. Mr. Hydeman acquired this gem when B. Max Mehl sold the famous collection of the late composer, Jerome Kern. Estimates of how many specimens exist vary between 10 and 14. It should be noted that, of late, rumors have been concerned with fraudulent specimens of this rarity.

This pedigreed example carries with it the assurance of authenticity and a background of substance. A special plastic holder has been made which indicates the pedigree and to which the new owners name may be readily affixed. This extraordinary offering should bring more than $10,000.00

1841 QUARTER EAGLE

548—Undoubtedly one of the rarest of United States coins is the 1841 Quarter Eagle ($2.50 gold). It was this cataloguer's pleasure to describe the Brilliant Proof Specimen which was sold as part of the World's Greatest Collection in 1946. That coin fetched $6000.00. It has since changed hands and is in the famous Eliasberg Collection which today is a stand-out as the greatest of its kind. Marketed today, the proof 1841 would sell for more than $15,000.00, possibly up to $25,000.00.

A specimen of the 1841 quarter eagle is in the State of Connecticut Collection, another is in the United States Mint Collection and, of course, the Eliasberg Collection as mentioned above.

It would be a happy occasion if the present offering was a choice example of the 1841 quarter eagle. Unfortunately, as the photographs clearly indicate, this coin is well worn. This being the case, the certainty which exists when a gem is under consideration is sadly lacking and our coin must be sold as is. We cannot improve on it, we cannot substitute a better one—this is it. I recall an old movie when, under enemy fire, a soldier snickered because Sidney Chaplin sought protection in a very shallow shell hole; To this Chaplin replied "If you know of a Better 'Ole, lead me to it."

Yes, this it is. In thirty odd years of Professional Numismatic work, this is the second specimen handled by us. We believe it is a prize for someone's collection, but the risk is the buyer's. Remember, this lot is sold as is. An estimate? That will depend on your pleasure—but we didn't give it all this space without the confidence of an attractive price being realized.

1879 STELLA

614—$4.00 Gold, 1879, Flowing hair. One of the more popular coins, the Stella or $4.00 gold piece has risen spectacularly within the past few years. Its appeal stems from its beauty, its rarity and the odd denomination. The latter results from an attempt to have an equivalent to the gold coin of the Latin Monetary Standard (the 20 Francs, 20 pesetas, etc.) Currently selling well, and this gem could set a record, at $4000.00

SECOND SESSION

MARCH 4, 1961 — 1:00 P.M.

SET LINCOLN COINS

689—Superb set of Lincoln Cents 1909-1953, all dates and mint marks, handsomely mounted in 2 special plastic holders. The 1914-D has a little tarnish but is a choice coin. Catalogues at $1750.00 but several key coins bring quite a bit more. If you are looking for the best, here it is. $2000.00

PROOF SET — SHIELD NICKELS

690—Complete 1866-1883 proof condition INCLUDING THE EXTREMELY RARE AND VALUABLE 1867 WITH RAYS, housed in a special plastic holder. Recently, the 1867 was advertised at $4200.00. The 1877 sells readily at $400.00 and the 1866 at over $300.00. This select set should bring $5000.00

PROOF SET — LIBERTY NICKELS

691—Complete set 1883-1912, all select proofs plus the uncirculated 1912-S and the 1912-D mints, in a special plastic holder. -Easily worth $1000.00

SET — BUFFALO NICKELS

692—Unusually nice set of this hard-to-get series, 1913-1938, all dates and mints (no over-date or 3 legged) in a special plastic holder. Putting such a set together is a time-consuming task. Should bring more than $2250.00

1895 PROOF SET

- 692a—1895, set of six proofs in a special plastic holder. The silver dollar is rare and has fetched close to the four figure mark, edging closer at each appearance. The half dollar, quarter, nickel, dime and cent round out a handsome and desirable set. Should bring $1450.00

SET — COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLARS

- 693—Set of Commemorative Half Dollars in national coin pages. Complete 1892 through 1953, plus Norse thick and thin, 141 uncirculated coins in National Coin Pages.

Commemoratives are certainly among the most interesting of all United States coins, depicting, as each does, a bit of the history of our country. Recent renewal of interest in this series should send this set to $3350.00

UNUSUAL RARITIES

- 694—PROOF PRESENTATION Specimen of the New Rochelle Commemorative Half Dollar, 1938. Coin and envelope numbered 8, this being the 8th coin struck. Presented to William S. Dewey then President of the Westchester County Coin Club meeting in New Rochelle. An unusual and rare item.
- 695—MATTE PROOF Sesquicentennial Half Dollar, 1926. This came out of the King Farouk Collection and is the only specimen ever to come to our attention. It is probably unique and highly valued by its present owner.
- 696—MATTE SILVER DOLLAR 1922. This is perhaps the 4th or 5th specimen of this dollar which has come to our attention. Curiously, an inquiry arrived while we were cataloging this sale asking if we would be interested in handling such a coin. It is in the estate of a dealer and cost him $3100.00. Fantastic? We would think so under most conditions but the dealer who made the inquiry for the estate is highly reputable and enjoys our complete confidence.

PATTERN DOLLARS UNIQUE TRIAL PIECE

- 943—1795 Silver Dollar trial piece on a large cent planchet. Listed as AW 18, UNIQUE. In appendix B of the Judd book this is listed as an unique mint error. If it is, it is probably the first mint error but we cannot understand why the thinking has changed—perhaps we have been more “mint-error” conscious, especially during the period of preparation for the Judd work.
- It seems much more likely that it was a trial striking. In either event, this is a valued prize for the collector of Patterns OR Mint Errors. This comes out of the F. C. C. Boyd Collection of Patterns, acknowledged as the finest and most complete ever formed. Should bring well over $3000.00 and could conceivably bring a runaway price.

- 944—1853, copper. Regular dies. Rarity 8, only 2 or 3 known, this was unknown to Adams-Woodin and is ex-Boyd, Farouk, where it was cleaned. $500.00
- 945—1870, aluminum. Regular reverse. J 1006, AW 878. $125.00
- 946—1870, silver. STANDARD reverse; ex-Farouk. J 1008, AW 852. Scarce. $175.00
- 947—1870, silver. Regular reverse. J 1014, AW 858. Scarce. $175.00

- 950—1872, silver. Commercial Dollar reverse. J 1212, AW 1248. Scarce. $175.00
- 951—1872, copper. Trade Dollar reverse. J 1221, AW 1246. Scarce. $200.00
- 952—1873, copper. Bailly design, trade dollar reverse. J 1283, AW 1304. Ex-Farouk. $85.00
- 953—1873, silver. J 1293, AW 1318A. $95.00
- 954—Same, copper. J 1295, AW 1320. Ex-Col. Green. $80.00
- 955—1873, white metal, corroded. The only specimen seen by us. While it is rated Rarity 7, indicating at least 4 specimens, we question that any others exist. Not an attractive item but certainly a rare one. $300.00
- 956—1873, copper. Bailly design. J 1317, AW 1314. Ex-Col. Green. $85.00
- 957—1876, copper. Liberty head/ONE DOLLAR. J 1460, AW 1489. Ex-Farouk. Rarity 8. $300.00
- 958—1876, silver. Pearls on Liberty's Diadem. J 1465, AW 1483. Rarity 8. $300.00
- 959—1878, copper die trials, INCUSED; obverse and reverse separate, both uniface. Dr. Judd lists these as die trials, uniface, but of the regular obverse and reverse strikings, NOT INCUSED. It is conceivable that the book neglected this detail through an oversight. We doubt that there is more than one pair of these trials in existence and recall giving this information to Dr. Judd. This extremely rare pair is ex-Farouk. The designs are of the regular dies with the eight tail feather reverse. In view of the fact that the 1878 dollar represented a resumption of the use of this denomination, an item such as this now being offered is of special interest. Probably unique, worth a four figure bid.
- 960—1878, copper. Design by William Barber. A handsome style. J 1555, AW 1563. Ex-Col. Green. $75.00
- 961—1878, copper. Goloid design by Wm. Barber. J 1559, AW 1566. Ex-Farouk. $60.00
- 963—1879 Same, but in lead, recded edge. This is corroded but extremely rare. It was the only specimen known to Fred Boyd and the only one we have seen. The coin is hardly attractive but numismatically important. Probably unique (although Dr. Judd lists it as Rarity 8, 2 or 3 pieces). Difficult to estimate in this condition. J 1621, AW 1600.
- 964—1879, silver. Wm. Barber goloid metric dollar. Liberty wearing cap with broad band inscribed LIBERTY, incuse: J 1627, AW 1606. $75.00
- 965—1880, aluminum. Barber's metric design. Extremely rare (Rarity 8). J 1647, AW 1638. $200.00
- 966—1880, silver. Barber's goloid metric design. J 1651, AW 1642. Ex-Farouk. $100.00
- 967—1885, aluminum. Regular dies. J 1750, AW 1713. Very rare. $250.00

PATTERN GOLD COINS

- 968—$1.00 1836, copper gilt. Liberty cap/1D. J 70, AW 53, ex-Boyd, Adolph Friedman. $150.00
- 969—$1.00 1852, silver, gilt. The ring dollar. As rare as the gold piece which is worth almost $1000.00. J 138, AW 153. ex-Boyd, A. Friedman. $250.00
- 970—$1.00 1872, copper. Wm. Barber's design. Liberty head, Amazonian reverse. J 1225, AW 1235. Rarity 7. $150.00
- 971—$2.50 (1796 with stars) obverse only in white metal. Possible a die trial. Unlisted, rare.

- 972—$3.00 1871, copper gilt. Regular dies. J 1167, AW 1086, ex-Boyd, Friedman. Very rare.
- 973—$3.00 1875. Regular dies, copper gilt. An extremely rare and desirable coin. The gold piece would fetch in excess of $7500.00 today. Struck from the same dies, but in fewer numbers. This is undoubtedly several times as rare as the gold coin. It was in the famous F. C. C. Boyd and Adolph Friedman Collections. J 1436, AW 1412. Its estimate at $1250.00 is low. Will probably bring quite a bit more.
- 974—$5.00 1868, aluminum. Regular dies. J 660, unlisted by Adams-Woodin. Ex-Farouk. $175.00
- 975—$5.00 1870, copper-gilt. Regular dies. Ex-Boyd, Friedman. J 1032, AW 834. $100.00
- 976—$5.00 1871, copper-gilt. Regular dies. Ex-Boyd, Friedman. J 1170, AW 1082. $100.00
- 977—$5.00 1876, copper-gilt. Regular dies. Ex-Boyd, Friedman. J 1484, AW 1472. Very rare. $125.00
- 978—$5.00 1878, copper. Morgan's design, Liberty head with hair combed back; erect eagle, raised wings: IN GOD WE TRUST in field above eagle. J 1569, AW 1557. $70.00
- 979—$10.00 1804, silver. A superb, sharp striking, similar to the regular die but with a plain 4 in date. The reverse is also similar to the regular die but with a beaded border. 4 or 5 pieces struck, this is the only one we have seen in over 30 years during which time we handled most of the outstanding pattern collections. This is an item which will take-off, price-wise, one of these days. It has the appeal. J 34, AW 23. Today's estimate should prove to be very low. $1000.00
- 980—$10.00 1885, copper-gilt. J 176, AW 193. Rarity 8. $175.00
- 981—$10.00 1862, copper-gilt. J 298, AW 356. Similar to regular dies but with GOD OUR TRUST above eagle. Ex-Boyd-Friedman. Common but interesting. $45.00
- 982—$10.00 1863, copper-bronzed. J 350, AW 361. GOD OUR TRUST on scroll above eagle. $40.00
- 983—$10.00 1863, copper. Regular die but with GOD OUR TRUST in field above eagle. J 352, AW 366. $40.00
- 984—$10.00 1870, Copper-gilt. J 1035, AW 831. Ex-Boyd, Friedman. $125.00
- 985—$10.00 1871, copper-gilt. J 1173, AW 1079. Ex-Boyd, Friedman. $150.00
- 986—$10.00 1874, copper-gilt, reeded edge. J 1374, AW 1367. The famous Dana Bickford International Ten Dollar Piece. Diademed Liberty Head./Divisions by rope into six sections, each giving the equivalents of DOLLARS 10. STERLING 2.1.1., MARKEN 41.99, KRONEN 37.31, GULDEN 20.73, FRANCS 51.91. In the center section, 16.72 GRAMS 900 FINE UBIQUE. A beautiful and significant item. $175.00
- 987—$10.00 1874. Same but plain edge, unknown to Adams-Woodin but noted by Fred Boyd in his collection. We subsequently sold it to King Farouk and eventually repurchased it when that collection was sold in Egypt in 1954. We submit that, if the Rarity 6 rating is correct, the number of specimens available would be closer to the 13 than the 30 population figure. J 1375. not in A-W. Ex-Boyd, Farouk. $300.00
- 988—$20.00 1859. Copper-gilt. The Paquet design. Liberty seated right hand supporting faces, left a shield, behind which a small eagle with wings partially extended, 3 arrows and olive branch beneath shield. J 257, AW 276. Ex-Boyd, Friedman. $135.00
- 989—$20.00 1870, copper, regular dies. J 1038, A W828. Edge bruised. Lists $175.00
- 990—$20.00 1876, copper, regular dies. J 1493, AW 1468. Scratched and bruised. Rare. Lists at $200.00 in perfect condition.
- 991—RARE SET 1871 Gold patterns in copper. $1, $2.50, $3, $5 and $10 out of the Farouk Collection. The Judd numbers are 1161, 1164, 1167, 1170 and 1173 and the corresponding AW numbers are 1092, 1089, 1086, 1082, and 1079. The set $650.00
- 992—CENT, 1937. Regular issue but with reeded edge. Only a small number made, at one time we heard that there were 107 pieces but, of course, that is unofficial.
- 993—NICKEL, 1937, reeded edge. As rare as above.

THE KING OF AMERICAN COINS
THE UNITED STATES
SILVER DOLLAR OF 1804

994—In all the history of Numismatics there has never been a single coin which was, and is, the subject of so much comment and interest as the United States Silver Dollar of 1804.

It is with considerable pride and pleasure that your cataloguer fondly adds this King of American Coins to this descriptive Catalogue of the Hydeman collection. This is the famous Idler Specimen of the 1804 Silver Dollar and was one of the first known examples. It was, at one time, in the famous John W. Hazeltine Collection. It was later in the renowned Granberg Collection; then in the celebrated Atwater Collection and subsequently in the Neil Collection.

It is important, and of considerable interest, that we record the known specimens of the 1804 Silver Dollar.

1. Mint Cabinet. The first variety with the last S of STATES and the O in OF close; lettered edge.
2. Smithsonian Institution. S and O wide; plain edge. (Unconfirmed reports indicate that here may be a second specimen of the plain edge variety in the British Museum).
3. The Stickney Dollar. Close S and O; now in the Eliasberg Collection.
4. The Appleton Dollar. Close S and O; now in the New England Historical Society in Boston, Massachusetts.
5. The Byron Reed Dollar; close S and O, now in the City Museum, Omaha, Nebraska.
6. The Dexter Dollar, close S and O; subsequently in the Dunham and Williams Collections and acquired by this cataloguer. It is now in the cabinet of the well known Eastern collector, Harold S. Bareford.
7. The Lamont Dupont Dollar; close S and O. Formerly the Parmelee Dollar.
8. The Lyman Low Dollar; wide S and O, lettered edge. Later in the Waldo Newcomer, Colonel Green and Fred C. C. Boyd Collections. This cataloguer acquired it from Mr. Boyd and sold it into a well-known collection, subsequently marketed.
9. Lamont Dupont Collection; wide S and O, lettered edge. Formerly the Ten Eyck Dollar.
10. The Hale Dollar, sold in 1954; wide S and O, lettered edge.
11. The Garrett Dollar, wide S and O, lettered edge.
12. The Ellsworth Dollar, wide S and O, lettered edge.

There is another "coin" in copper with plain edge, that was in the San Francisco Mint Cabinet. This "coin" is an electrotypes—it has the word COPY at the bottom of the reverse.

If the British Museum does own a specimen of the rare plain edge variety, that would make thirteen known pieces.

6—Close S and O, lettered edge.

1 (or 2) Wide S and O, plain edge.

5—Wide S and O, lettered edge.

The plain edge pieces, as mentioned are in the Smithsonian Institution and, possibly, in the British Museum—unattainable.

The other specimen (No. 1) in the mint collection, the coin in the New England Historical Society (No. 4), the example in the Omaha Museum (No. 5); obviously equally unattainable.

3. The Stickney specimen is in the Eliasberg Foundation and not likely to be sold. No. 6 in the Bareford Collection was valued at (but not offered for sale) $50,000.00 for exhibition purposes some three years ago. Nos. 7 and 9 in the Dupont Collection are not likely prospects.

Supporting our comparative rarity theory, Mr. Mehl stated that there were less offerings of the wide S and O variety in a 50 year period than of the closed variety. This being the case, it is logical to assert that the Idler Dollar, being the best known and best preserved example of the wide S and O variety, should be the outstanding example of this entire group of Silver Dollars of 1804. The recent New York Auction by Stack's offered the wide S and O variety and a record $28,000.00 price was paid. It is now reportedly in the Samuel W. Wolfson Collection.

It is worthy of note that we have had the Hydeman Collection in our hands for some time. During this period negotiations were in progress which, if successful, would have transferred the entire collection into new hands. It was while negotiations were proceeding that this cataloguer was approached with an offer of $50,000.00 for the Idler 1804 Dollar. Of course, we had no authorization to sell the one coin, nor could we jeopardize the negotiations.

Several other serious collectors inquired about the possibility of negotiating for this rarity and, in each instance, we were forced to discourage further pursuit along these lines. Now, of course, the coin is on the block. The Idler specimen is, as has been pointed out, and we quote from the Neil Catalogue by B. Max Mehl, "The best known specimen of this great rarity." We might add that the condition of the Idler specimen is superior to that of the recently marketed 1804 Silver Dollar.

You are now aware of how closely the 1804 Silver Dollars are guarded. History indicates that, while two specimens of this great rarity are offered within the short span of a few months, many years may elapse before another opportunity presents itself.

We suspect that, only because it was known that the Idler Dollar was to be offered soon, did the bidding stop at $28,000.00 in the New York Sale. Had there been no prospect in view of another 1804 dollar coming on the market, very likely the bidding would have continued to an even higher price level. Now, the situation is such that there is no prospect of another 1804 silver dollar being offered—perhaps for many years to come. There are several magnificent collections which thirst for this coin. In a way, it is regrettable that all of these fine collections cannot include this King of American Coins—but that is the way it must be.

It is our considered opinion that this Numismatic Prize will fetch at least $40,000.00 and could conceivably exceed that figure by a substantial amount.

THE UNIQUE 1866 QUARTER and HALF DOLLAR WITHOUT MOTTO

In view of the unique features peculiar to both of these coins, namely that they are of the same date, and that only one specimen of each exists, it seems advisable to offer each coin separately and then to offer both coins as a pair.

If the bids on the pair of coins, as a pair, are higher than the combined bids on the separate offerings, then the pair will be awarded as one lot.

If the separate bids total more than the bids on the pair as a lot, then each coin will be awarded to the highest bidder for that coin.

Thus—we will offer lot 1107, then lot 1108. The total will represent the starting bid on the combined lots 1107 and 1108 subject to any higher bids on the combined pair which may have been received by mail.

THE UNIQUE 1866 QUARTER WITHOUT MOTTO

1107—1866 NO MOTTO, BRILLIANT PROOF. This is the only piece in existence of the 1866 Quarter without motto. In the recent New York Sale the 1866 Silver Dollar without motto was offered as “possibly unique.” The cataloguers indicated that reference books stated that there were “two known.” Well, there are two known. For the sake of the record we take this opportunity to fill in the details.

The late Fred C. C. Boyd acquired many of the rarities out of the William H. Woodin Collection. Among them were the only two specimens of the Dollar and the only quarter and half dollar of 1866 without motto on reverse. It was the good fortune of this cataloguer to be able to call Fred Boyd a friend, a patron, an advisor and a benefactor. When Fred Boyd began selling off from his vast numismatic holdings, this cataloguer became his confidential agent, a fact which was a trade secret at that time but was later released by Mr. Boyd.

One dollar came to us as part of a collection, was sold as part of a collection and has since become part of a well known collection—where it still resides. The other dollar, the quarter and the half dollar came to us as a set and was sold as a set to King Farouk. This cataloguer then repurchased the set in the Cairo Auction in 1954. The Dollar was placed in the “Fairbanks Collection” and was priced at the low four figure level. The Half Dollar was placed in a West Coast Collection and was priced at a middle four figure level; the quarter and half dollar, both being unique, were equally priced. The silver dollar, of which two specimens exist sold at $13,000.00 in the New York Auction and is now reportedly in the Samuel W. Wolfson Collection. The Quarter, now being offered, is unique and as the only specimen available should bring a fabulous figure. Being the only specimen, it can only grace one collection. The only other comparable U.S. coin from the degree of rarity is the 1873CC Dime without arrows which we sold in 1950 at a price of $3650.00. Now in the Eliasberg Foundation Collection that dime is off the market. The 1866 quarter compares favorably with ANY coin, 1804 Dollar, 1913 Nickel, or any other coin. This may be an opportunity that knocks only once.

1866 HALF DOLLAR WITHOUT MOTTO

1108—1866 NO MOTTO, HALF DOLLAR, Brilliant proof. UNIQUE. The story has been told above. Being unique, there can be nothing rarer. Perhaps, the specialists will tear these two coins apart; the quarter may end up with a specialist in that series, the half dollar with another specialist. We shall see.

UNIQUE PAIR

1107 and 1108—Subject to the introductory remarks preceding lot number 1107.

The pair of 1866 coins, quarter and half dollar, as listed under lots numbered 1107 and 1108, offered as a pair.

The Quarter is unique, so is the Half Dollar. It seems reasonable, if not axiomatic, that when two such rarities are considered at one time, the value of the pair is considerably higher than the sum of the values of each of the coins. It is quite apparent that these two prizes could be separated—one in each of two outstanding collections. If this were the case, it is doubtful that either collector would give up his prize in order that both of these coins would be together. On the contrary, both collectors would more likely be anxious to acquire the second coin and would undoubtedly be willing to pay dearly for it. How dearly? Who can tell? The desire to acquire that which is difficult of acquisition has driven man to many extremes. Certainly, fantastic prices have been paid for paintings, gems or rare stamps.

It is with pride and pleasure that we offer these extraordinary coins. It is with keen anticipation and more than slight curiosity as to who will be their new fortunate owner that this offering goes under the hammer.
